STRAND #19: RtI Implementation at the Administrative Level - 'Yes, it's still a 'thing'!'

Description

Response to Intervention (RtI) is the practice of providing high-quality instruction/intervention matched to student needs and using learning rate over time and level of performance to make important educational decisions about an individual student. (NASDSE, 2006).

NYSED set a regulatory policy framework for the implementation of RtI for grades K - 4 in October 2010. This webinar series will focus on assisting administrators in applying this framework in their buildings and developing an RtI process and implementation framework that meets the needs of all students.

The important role of administrators, especially in developing a schedule conducive to RtI implementation, as well as reviewing data teams, with a focus on research-based best practices for the school and in the classrooms, is imperative in the success of RtI implementation and will be addressed in this webinar series. In addition, administrators will receive practical suggestions with research-based practices in improving student achievement, and developing an RtI framework that is realistic and age-appropriate for students at their building level.

Presenter

Ms. Amy Piper, NYS RtI Technical Assistance Center and Fredonia Central School District administrator.

Intended Audience

Administrators who are directly responsible for increasing academic achievement (in particular building principals)
